FOREWORD

A University is recognized by its faculty, students, policies and the procedures it implements. At DHA Suffa University (DSU), our focus is to groom our students to make them better human beings, in addition to supporting their academic pursuits. To maintain a disciplined environment in all aspects of University life, students have to observe certain rules set by the University. The purpose of this handbook is to provide guidelines to students for a smooth academic life at DSU. Students at DSU come from diverse backgrounds and social customs and during their academic life they have to interact with one another, with the Faculty, as well as with the Administration and Staff. Observing these guidelines will create a conducive environment for curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities at DSU. The University aims to prepare and equip the students well to face challenges after they graduate, becoming not only professionally competent but also having high moral and ethical values. DSU has highly qualified faculty, hi-tech IT infrastructure, laboratories with state-of-the-art equipment, a library, a cafeteria and an auditorium. We expect the students to make the best use of these facilities and to preserve and maintain them for themselves as well as for those who may come after them. It is desired that the students do not let their problems persist, instead they approach their teachers and other support staff in academic administration to seek guidance and help. We wish the students good luck and hope that they have a memorable time at DSU.

Note: The University reserves the right to amend these Rules and Regulations as and when required without any prior intimation. Students are expected to keep themselves aware of any such changes in the Rules and Regulations in their own interest. In case of any conflict, the decision and interpretation of DSU will be final and binding on all.

7.5.1 This section formalizes the policy for users, faculty and staff (both full and part-time) at DHA Suffa University on the use of DSU IT Resources, including computers, printers and other peripherals, programs, data, local and wide area networks, email, and the Internet. DHA Suffa University (DSU) promotes access to a wide range of information resources and information processing technologies. The use of computers, PDA's, Tablets, electronic information and computer networks is essential for research, instruction and administration within the academic community at DSU. However, responsible use of these systems is highly important. These policy statements are intended to augment, not supersede, any additional contractual agreements of conduct or confidentiality to which a DSU employee may be subject. The University reserves the right to amend this policy at any time with or without notice.

User Responsibilities:

7.5.2 It is the responsibility of any person using DSU IT resources to read, understand, and follow this policy. In addition, users are expected to exercise reasonable judgment in interpreting this policy and in making decisions about the use of IT resources. Any person with questions regarding the application or meaning of this policy should seek clarification from appropriate supervisors. Additionally, users must comply with all applicable DSU policies and procedures and state and federal law. The use of DSU IT resources is a privilege, not a right, and failure to observe this policy may subject individuals to disciplinary action, including, but not limited to, loss of access rights, expulsion from the University and/or termination of employment. Further, failure to observe this policy may result in violation of civil and/or criminal laws.

Acceptable Usage of DSU IT Resources:

7.5.3 DSU firmly believes that IT resources empower users and make their education and work more fulfilling and successful. Acceptable use of DSU's computing and networking resources includes usage for academic, educational or professional purposes which are directly related to official University's business and in support of DSU's mission. All users, faculty and staff must abide by DSU's IT resource usage policy, within and outside the campus.

User Rights:

7.7 The University provides electronic resources to users to effectively perform their job duties. The University will not routinely monitor an individual user's electronic data, software, or communication files.

University Processes:

7.8 Users should be aware that electronic data, software, and communications files are copied to backup tapes and stored. Items that were deleted may be preserved on backup tapes and retrieved if necessary. All activity on systems and networks may be monitored, logged, and reviewed by system administrators, or discovered in legal proceedings. In addition, all documents created, stored, transmitted or received on university computers and networks may be subject to monitoring by systems administrators.

University rights:

7.9 The University reserves the right to access, monitor and disclose the contents and activity of an individual user's account(s) and to access any university-owned IT-resources and any non-University-owned IT-resources, on university property, connected to University networks. This action may be taken to maintain the network's integrity and the rights of others authorized to access the network. Additionally, this action may be taken if the security of a computer or network system is threatened, other misuse of University resources is suspected, or the University has a legitimate business need to review such files (e.g., due to sudden death or incapacity of the employee). This action will be taken only after obtaining approval from a competent authority appropriate to their circumstances and when there is deemed to be an urgent and compelling need to do so.

IT Resource Use:

7.10 Following Do's and Dont's should be considered :

7.10.1 All users are granted access to and permitted use of the University's IT resources. Access is granted for specific purposes based on the user's particular needs or classification.

Responsibilities:

7.11 Following are the responsibilities to be considered by the user of IT services;

7.11.1 Each user shall be responsible for the security and integrity of information stored on his or her personal desktop, laptop, PDA or Smartphone systems. The guidelines are given in the ensuing paragraphs.

7.11.2 Making regular backups of information and files. Controlling and securing physical and network access to IT resources and data. Properly logging out of sessions.

7.11.3 Monitoring access to their accounts, if a user suspects that their access codes have been compromised or that there has been unauthorized activity on their accounts, they are to report it to IT Security via the Help Desk and change access codes immediately.

7.11.4 Show a valid photo ID in order to secure input/output, and use a valid University ID to obtain access to computer labs/facilities.

7.11.5 Choose appropriate password(s), and guard the security of that password

7.11.6 Abide by the password protection practices specified for each IT-resource, and change their access codes on a regular basis, or as required by standards.

7.11.7 Use only the access codes and privileges associated with their computer account(s) and utilize those account(s) for the purposes for which they were authorized.

7.11.9 Respect and honor the rights of other individuals, with regard to intellectual property, privacy, freedom from harassment, academic freedom, copyright infringement, and use of IT resources.

Restrictions:

7.12 Users may not do the following:

7.12.1 Provide their access codes / passwords to any non-user / unauthorized person for such access.

7.12.2 Make use of accounts, access codes, privileges or IT-resources to which they are no longer authorized.

7.12.3 Tamper with, modify, or alter restrictions or protection placed on their accounts, the university system, or network facilities.

7.12.4 Extend the network by introducing a hub, switch, router, wireless access point, or any other service or device that provides more than one device to the university network.

7.12.5 Use the university's Internet access in a malicious manner to alter or destroy any information available on the Internet or on any network accessible through the Internet for which he or she does not own or have explicit permission to alter or destroy.

7.12.17 Establishing servers is only permitted if they do not contain critical/sensitive regulated/operational data and have been identified to IT Services and are regularly scanned for security issues. In addition, they must not violate any other policy or law, or interfere with or limit IT resources available for authorized use. All network game servers are forbidden.

7.12.18 Data that is considered critical / sensitive or regulated /operational must be housed within the campus data center as per the Sensitive Information Policy.

Copyright and Licensing Protection:

7.13 Computer programs are valuable intellectual property. Software publishers can be very aggressive in protecting their property rights from infringement. Users are not permitted to use any software unless it is properly licensed to DSU. In addition to software, legal protections can also exist for any information published on the Internet, such as the text and graphics on a web site. As such, it is important that users respect the rights of intellectual property owners.

Viruses, Trojans and PC Vulnerability:

7.14 Users should exercise reasonable precautions in order to prevent the introduction of a computer virus into the local area or wide area networks. Virus scanning software, approved by the IT Department, will be used at all times and, specifically, to scan storage media used to transport data such as DVDs, CDs, flash drives, etc. The IT Department will install centrally managed antivirus software configured to receive updates automatically on all University owned computers. In addition, executable files (such as program files that end in ".exe") should not be stored on or run from network drives unless authorized, installed and maintained by the IT Department. Finally, it is a good practice to scan computer hard drives periodically to see if they have been infected. Please contact the IT Help Desk (helpdesk@dsu.edu.pk or Ext. 190) with any questions.

Computer Security and Network Threat:

7.15 Most desktop computers are connected to a local area network, which links computers within DSU and, through the wide area network, to the Internet. As such, it is critically important that users take particular care to avoid compromising the security of the network. Users shall not connect any device to any DSU computer equipment or to the DSU campus network without the written permission and involvement of the IT Department. This includes, but is not limited to servers, personal computers, notebook/laptop computers, printers, hubs, switches, routers, firewalls, wireless access points, etc. Because the installation of unauthorized software can severely compromise computer and network security, therefore, users are not permitted to install any software on DSU computers without the permission of management and the involvement of IT personnel. Under no circumstances IT personnel will be responsible for the installation and/or configuration of software or hardware on any non-DSU equipment. Users must never share their passwords with anyone else, and should promptly notify the IT Help Desk (helpdesk@dsu.edu.pk or Ext. 190) if they suspect their passwords have been compromised. In addition, users who will be leaving their PCs unattended for extended periods (more than 30 minutes) should either log off the network or have password-protected screen savers in operation. Finally, no user is allowed to access external networks via VPN without written permission from management and the involvement of the IT Department, as it can compromise/bypass the parameter security of DSU network.

Unauthorized Penetration Testing and Vulnerability Profiling

7.15.1 Users are prohibited to run network/system vulnerability scanners, port scanners, scripting, denial-of-service, distributed-denial-of-service attacks and all forms of penetration testing/scanning tools against DSU network devices, computing platforms and servers without the knowledge and written consent from the IT department. Any such activity activity without the written consent is strictly against the usage policy and warrants strict disciplinary and legal action according to the prevailing law.

7.16 When using e-mail, there are several points the users should consider. E-mail addresses identify the organization that sent the message (Ex. Employee.Name@dsu.edu.pk). Thus, users should ensure that all e-mails are written in a professional and courteous tone. Furthermore, although many users regard e-mail as offering a quick, informal way to communicate, users should remember that e-mails can be stored, copied, printed, or forwarded by recipients. As such, users should not write anything in an e-mail message that they would not feel just as comfortable putting into a formal memorandum.

Phishing Attacks And Spam Emails

7.16.1 DSU IT Department will never ask for passwords via emails and will never send out softwares/ executables files in email attachments. Therefore as a general rule never reply such email or run any software sent in email attachment.

7.16.2 Users should be careful against emails claiming to be from their banks, couriers and IT Admin, with “click here” type messages. These come under Phishing attacks and are designed to steal your personal information and hack email accounts to send out spam email.

7.16.2 Users are advised to always check the “from address” of all suspicious emails before clicking any link or downloading any attachment in the email. More information about the email can be found by clicking “show original” or “show headers”. Malicious emails normally have untrusted and obscure “from address”.

Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, blogs or other forms of social media, shall be limited to academic, educational, or professional purposes, which are directly related to University’s business and in support of the University’s mission. All such uses shall comply with other sections of this Policy. IT resources provided by the University are the property of DSU; therefore, users shall have no expectation of privacy when using such resources.

Policy Amendments and Restrictions:

7.17 DHA Suffa University reserves the right to change the policies, information, requirements and procedures, announced in this policy, at any time. Changes required by University contractual commitments shall be effective and binding to all the users upon execution of any such contract by the university. A user shall be deemed to have accepted and be bound by any change in University policies, information, requirements or procedures if such user uses IT resources at any time following announcement or publication of such change. Moreover, DSU makes no warranties of any kind, whether express or implied, for the service it is providing. DSU will not be responsible for any damages a user suffers. This includes loss of data resulting from delays, no-deliveries, or service interruptions caused by DSU negligence or by the user's errors or omissions. Use of any information obtained via the Internet is at the user's own risk. DSU specifically denies any responsibility for the accuracy or quality of information obtained through its services. Users need to consider the source of any information they obtain and consider how valid that information may be. DSU also specifically denies any responsibility for a user's encounter, access or use of any inappropriate or controversial materials from DSU IT resources, including the Internet. Users must notify the IT Help Desk (helpdesk@dsu.edu.pk or Ext. 190) if they identify any IT resources being used in a manner inconsistent with this Policy.

Code of Conduct in Cafeteria:

7.18 Students are to visit the cafeteria only during their free periods and are expected to abide by the students code of conduct. However points mentioned in the ensuing paragraphs are emphasized.

7.18.1 All food and beverages must be consumed in the cafeteria and should not be taken to class rooms etc. Any unfinished food/drinks, disposable plates / glasses etc should be discarded or placed in the waste boxes prior to leaving cafeteria.
